- The industrial production has been pretty flat, but this year new orders have been growing

FINNISH ECONOMY – SLOW RECOVERY

- Construction still weak, but worst seems to be behind us
- Business confidence is slowly recovering
- Finnish economy is also slowly recovering. The good news is that the economic impact of the tariffs has so far been smaller than expected. The bad news is that household gloom has persisted. Our GDP growth forecasts are 2025e: 0.8%, 2026e: 1.7%

HOUSEHOLDS' FINANCIAL SITUATION AND HOUSING MARKET IMPROVING

- Recovery in real earnings continues
- Households' net wealth is increasing
- Transaction activity in housing markets started to recover in 2024
- The decline in house prices has ended, but a clear upward trend has yet to be emerged. We expect house prices to increase slightly (+0.5%) in 2025
